

Leadership Grants 2019 Purpose

The President's Council of Cornell Women established the PCCW Leadership Grants in 2000 to provide support for Cornell women by funding activities that prepare them for and/or recognize leadership.

PCCW's primary goals include:

- Expanding the role of women in Cornell's decision-making groups
- Advising the president on issues important to Cornell women
- Attracting outstanding women students, faculty, and staff to Cornell, and enhancing their leadership opportunities
- Engaging leading alumnae by strengthening their ties to each other and to Cornell
- Offering guidance and role models for Cornell women
- Providing financial support for PCCW and other initiatives that help Cornell women

In keeping with PCCW's tradition of support, the Leadership Endowment Fund was established to assist the following Cornell groups:

- Women students
- Women's athletics programs
- Women faculty, administration, and staff

Grants from the Leadership Endowment Fund are intended to:

- Support new projects which prepare and/or recognize women for leadership
- Be aligned with the university's goals and priorities as evidenced in a definitive way
- Have a reasonable probability of significant, substantive, and long-term effect
- Further the goals of PCCW
